BIO

Dr. Kurtz is a university professor and noted criminologist and Bernhardt scholar. He was once the youngest chair of a criminal justice department in the United States. He is one of the founders of the Oklahoma State Criminal Justice Research Consortium, a statewide research consortium that funded evaluation and research in criminal justice. The John F. Kennedy School at Harvard University chose this program for an award for Innovations in Government. Dr. Kurtz has been an invited speaker at the National Institute of Justice in Washington D.C. He is the 2021 recipient of the university's Bernhardt award for outstanding faculty.

He worked in victim studies for many years and developed one of the country's first university courses on Victimology. Results from his dissertation research on crime victims were published in the International Journal of Victimology. He was invited to make a presentation at the second World Congress on Victimology sponsored by the United Nations and the International Association of Victimology in Onati Spain.

His dissertation research was published as a book on the effects of violence titled "The Beaten Victim" and in the journal of Victimology. He is regularly called upon by the Justice Department, The Office of Justice Programs, the Office of Homeland Security, and the National Institute of Justice to consult on evaluation projects and to serve as an expert evaluator for federal grants.

He has developed graduate and undergraduate course materials on crime for national and international learning companies that are used by countless colleges here and abroad.

He also does consulting work for The American Council on Education, The National Social Sciences Association, The National Science Foundation, The US Department of Education, and numerous government agencies. Dr. Kurtz was selected as one of the “Outstanding People of the 20th Century,” by IBC, Cambridge, England,

Dr. Kurtz has been actively involved in research and scholarly activity throughout his career. He has received funding from the State of Oklahoma to study Electronic Monitoring, Criminal Justice Flow-Charting, Prison Escapes and Victims services.

He has taught sociology and criminal justice for more than thirty years for five universities. He received his doctorate from The University of North Texas and completed two post-Doctoral studies at Rice University. He achieved the rank of full professor at OCU and was a department chair for twenty years. Below are some of his accomplishments since coming to Southwestern Oklahoma State University.

1. Graduate Ethics and Criminal Justice.
2. Graduate studies in International Terrorism
3. Graduate studies in Justice Management
4. Graduate Criminal Justice Studies

- Southwest Criminal Justice Association: Working as a co-coordinator to facilitate the visit of the SWJA to Oklahoma City. Arranged and accompanied site visit and acting as a bridge between the association and the Terrorist Institute. I am also coordinating OCU student involvement.
- U.S. Military Fort Sill Off-Campus Program: In 2003 I established an accelerated master’s program at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, for military personal. This resulted in a seven-year exclusivity memorandum of understanding between the university and the United States Army. I teach one night per week on post and direct that program. The Fort Sill program also includes officers from Lawton P.D. and the Department of Corrections.
- International Systems of Justice: Developed a program in international systems of Justice that involves taking students abroad to study. For the past 15 years, I have conducted overseas study trips. I teach in Great Britain, Germany, and Taiwan R.O.C. These courses include cross-cultural studies based upon field visits to courts, police agencies and prisons. I have also sub-contracted with two state schools in Texas and Oklahoma to offer sections of this course.
- Oklahoma Department of Corrections Research Consortium: State Chair/ Executive Board/Chair of Research Review. I am one of the founding members of the Department of Corrections Criminal Justice Research Consortium. I sat on the executive board and established and initially chaired the grant review board. I then served as Chair of the consortium. The consortium had an annual budget of $120,000. I also served on the editorial board and reviewed papers for the journal. The consortium was nominated for an award from the John F. Kennedy School for Government at Harvard University and was awarded National Semi-finalist as an Innovation in Government.

- Asian Program Development: I directed the establishment of three, five-year agreements with the Taiwan Govt. Republic of China and their National Police administration (N.P.A.) to provide masters level degree work. These programs have resulted in a great deal of international exchange of culture and intelligence and represent substantial monetary gains for the university. I also organized an international conference on Sino American police information exchange.
- I was awarded a substantial travel grant by Asian alumni, so that I might visit the Orient and observe oriental culture firsthand. During my stay, I was invited to present a paper at the Central Police College of The Republic of China. I have been given many tours of police and prison operations by the Central Police Administration and I am received with honors. I have been instrumental in establishing relationships between American Law enforcement agencies and the N.P.A. of Taiwan and I have received awards for this work. I have established a course in comparative criminal justice that allows students to visit the N.P.A. and study its workings.
- General Motors established an on-site Criminal Justice Master's program for General Motors Executive Security Personnel in 1992.
- U.S. Marshals Service: I established a Federal Internship Program in 2000. I serve as University Coordinator and Recruiter for the Marshal Service. I attended training as guest of the United States Marshal Service, Miami Florida, September 2000.
- Internship Coordinator Establish and monitor applied graduate and undergraduate internships with local, state, and federal agencies and the private sector.
- Research Consultant: National Institute of Justice, Homeland Security, US Department of Education -Office of Safe and Drug Free Schools, American Council on Education, The National Science Foundation, The Justice Department, Office of Justice Programs, Corporations and Government Agencies.

Prior Service

- For twenty years I performed all duties associated with directing programs at the graduate and undergraduate levels, including: budget decisions, supervising secretarial staff, coordinating research assistants, hiring, and supervising full time faculty and adjunct professors. In addition to my duties overseeing undergraduate programs in Sociology and Criminal Justice, I served as Academic Dean for the Master of Criminal Justice program. I had responsibility for admissions to the program and final graduation certification.

- I expanded the master's curriculum to include courses in Criminal Research, Computers in the Social Sciences and Security Management. I organized and directed numerous seminars on diverse topics including police survival, corporate security, and petroleum theft. I also was the departmental coordinator for the Competency Based Degree Program. I was responsible for acquiring cash gifts to increase our department's computer facilities and set up a computer system for our office. I am requested by journals to review other's work, including evaluation of new software in the social sciences.
- I serve or have served on the following University Committees: Thesis Committees, Graduate Council, Curriculum Development, Graduate Admissions Committee, Blue Key Selection Committee, Harry S. Truman Scholarship Committee, Religious Life Committee, North Central Evaluation Committee, and Faculty Sponsor for K.A. Fraternity, O.C.U. Athletic Committee, Library Committee, University Marshal, and Hiring Boards.

OTHER WORK

Denton County Community Services

Project Coordinator for the Denton County Jail Project. 1976 -1978. Worked on National Institute of Justice federal grants through the office of the mayor and N.T.S.U. community services. Developed a model program for the Governor's council on crime. Testimony before the Texas state jail commission helped funding a new jail.

Probation and Parole Officer

Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. 1974-1975. I had a caseload of 90 - 150 defendants and worked in the city's most troubled areas. I completed probation officer training at Penn State University and worked with a team set up to do psychological evaluations and consultations on drug abuse. I also worked closely with a local halfway house for young adults.

COMPUTERS AND CYBER SECURITY

I have taught computer applications in the social sciences and seminars on computer crime. I am familiar with SPSS, SCSS, OSIRIS and many stat packages for personal computers. I am an expert on the PC and Macintosh computers. I was successful in obtaining funds to build a social science microcomputer lab at OCU. I am also proficient with mainframe and remote data analysis and have taught a graduate course on cyber security for two years for the University of Maryland and served as a new faculty mentor. I also taught a course on Computer Crime at Oklahoma City University... I am also proficient with most major online computer systems used for online instruction

OTHER PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITES

- I made an executive presentation to the Department of Corrections Upper Management on Corrections in Oklahoma and Management September 11th, 2013
- I delivered the Keynote Address at Oklahoma State Corrections Association Norman October 2011
- I organized a briefing on Human Trafficking with the FBI OSBI and OKCPD for Baroness Nicholson in June 2011. We have since emailed each other about human trafficking.
- I worked with the FBI to form a working group of Energy Executives with the FBI and Infragard organized to protect vital infrastructures. MAY 2011
- I organized the visit of Dr. Flynn director of the United States Policy Center who gave a speech on resilience and terrorism May 2011
- I serve as the state secretary of the Oklahoma AAUP Conference.
- I made a presentation on Academic Freedom at the AAUP state meeting
- I have been asked to serve on the board of Infragard this year. This is an organization dedicated to the security of the United States Infrastructure

My contributions in this area are diverse. I have attempted to be a good campus citizen and willingly serve on committees and project within the department. At the 2011 spring trustee meeting I was honored by President Henry to be presented to the trustees of Oklahoma City University as one the university's top faculty members

CHARITY WORK AND EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITY

Music: I play five instruments and have played guitar with a local band that was voted band of the year by the Oklahoma country music association in 2002. We were also voted Band of the Year in the European Market by New Artist Radio. Our Cd is on sale at the Red-Dirt Emporium as a representation of Oklahoma's Original Music. We back up or open for national touring acts such as Lone Star and Ricochet and play large corporate events and festivals but still find time to play for numerous charity events.

Charity:

In 2017 I performed at a charity event in Clovis New Mexico hosted by the United Women Dairy Farmers to raise money to donate milk to under served school children.

In 2017 I donated 1800 books to the Friends of the Library fund at the Oklahoma City Public Library. I have also made significant donations to the Salvation Army this year. I donate my time and play for charity events each year. One of these has become a yearly fundraiser to repair the crumbling infrastructure at the Governor's Estate.

Wichita Kansas I 2017 performed at a charity for children that use Horses for Rehab. Another involved the help of Blake Sheldon and Melissa Lambert and raised over $150,000 for cancer research. I performed at the Cattle Barons ball twice to raise money for the American cancer society. Other recent events include,

1. I volunteered to be part of an auction package for the ball in 2014.
2. Concert and Fire Works July 2015 Mustang Fire Department Fundraiser raised $7000 for equipment.
3. Friends of the Governors Mansion annual benefit 2010 through 2018
4. Blanchard Oklahoma Community Fund Raiser. 2015

Youth Coach I have written and published a book entitled Surviving Youth Sports, McGraw Hill, which is used in my course Sports in American Society. I am also completing another book on coaching a basketball All American. I coached youth sports year-round for ten years.

I have attended numerous clinics and coaching schools. I am a certified soccer coach in the state of Oklahoma and hold the national D license. I have also attended the US National Soccer Coaching School.

Youth teams I coached won indoor and outdoor soccer city championships 14 times, a state silver medal, the Regional Power Aide Gold medal and seven local club championships.

I also coached basketball, including the 1996 Oklahoma State AAU champions, who were ranked seventh in the nation. In 1996, and again in 1997, I coached the Oklahoma Street Basketball Champions in the Banc First Oklahoma Street ball tournament. Scores of my former players have gone on to play in high school, college and a few have played professionally. One was a first round draft choice by the NBA by the Boston Celtics.

Hobbies: I live on a golf course and play when I can. I also enjoy swimming and water sports and spend time in the Caribbean in the summer at a family-owned condo. I enjoy music and play guitar and write and record original music. My wife and I are season ticket holders for Thunder Basketball and attend games when we can.

I have dedicated my adult life to helping others and the pursuit of knowledge. That is the reason I have chosen a career at a university. I believe that we are both teachers and students forever. My greatest pleasure is to develop value that lies dormant in people and things that others may have overlooked. I love working with students and unraveling complex problems using the sociological imagination. I do not think it is possible to accomplish everything that we would like to accomplish in one lifetime. Facing the possibility that so many things will be left undone I believe it is critical that we take our tasks to heart and apply our hearts to our tasks.

TEACHING EVALUATIONS

A FEW STUDENT COMMENTS

"Overall "Most" of my professor did a good job conducting an online class while others just made their courses harder. There is a difference between what can be learned via an online course versus a traditional course in my opinion. Making a course harder just because of its online format serves no purpose other than to create an obstacle which must be negotiated to achieve the end goal, attaining the degree. It does nothing to increase the understanding of the material. I only say this to make a point to convey that those professors who created "busy" work assignments need to just stop. I don't know about my fellow students, but I learn best and tend to succeed more often when the material is short and sweet, additional resources are minimal, format is unwavering in its delivery. I would use Professor Kurtz online courses as an example. In his courses every week there is a discussion about a given related topic, there is a midterm paper, there are approximately 4 exams with none weighted more than another. His course is by far my best grade this semester because I knew what to expect from the beginning of the semester. This is even with his exams being the most difficult of all professors' exams to date as they are at a minimum 100 questions in length and require lock-down browser and webcam to complete. Regardless I never felt like I had to check my email every hour to see what was expected of me and that is profoundly less stressful." (Forwarded to me by Dr. Katz
